SHL

Welcome to SHL Schweizerische Hotelfachschule Luzern, the competence centre for in-depth, application and practice-oriented training in hospitality management with national and international recognition.

The prime location in Lucerne is where we have been educating, accompanying and shaping committed and ambitious individuals on their way to becoming inspiring leaders since 1909. The varied, realistic management training at SHL as well as the in-depth specialist internships in the professional world lead to comprehensive competencies that are indispensable for managing a company and optimally prepare our students for a management position in the hotel and catering industry.

At the SHL career events, we bring together what belongs together: companies looking for the right employees and students looking for an exciting challenge.
